

BROKE out of the county Gaol in New-London, on the night following the first inst. the following persons, viz. Amos Green, a native of Preston, in this State, is about five feet 11 inches high, light complexion, had on a dark brown jacket, and tow-cloth trowsers; also, John Reynold's, and John Collins. both old countrymen, each about 5 feet 8 inches high, each had on a dark blue jacket, and old felt hats; also, Anthony Paul, an Indian of the Mohegan tribe, had on an old brown great coat, an old felt hat, and tow cloth trowsers, is about 5 feet 8 inches high. Whoever will take up the above prisoners, and return them to the gaol, shall have EIGHT DOLLARS reward, or two dollars for either of them, and all necessary charges.

EBENEZER DOUGLAS, Gaoler.

New-London, May 2, 1784.