

RAN away from his Master John March, Esq;
at Newbury, on the 8th Day of May Instant, an Indian Man named Primus, a short Fellow about 40 Years of Age, speaks very good English, and can read and write very well:
He had on when he went away, a yellowish Coat with Brass Buttons, and a dark brown Coat with Pewter Buttons, a strip'd Wastcoat, and Leather Breeches.

Whosoever shall take up said Indian and convey him to his aforesaid Master shall have Forty Shillings Reward and all necessary Charges paid by John March.

Dated at Newbury, May 17th. 1740.